

TAFT AND ROOSEVELT HEADQUARTERS MOVED

McKinley and Dixon Close Up in Washington and Start for Chicago.

SENATOR GOES TO COLONEL

Manager Will Hurry to Convention City After Conference With Candidate.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The rival Presidential headquarters of Taft and Roosevelt, presided over by Representative McKinley and Senator Dixon respectively, have closed so far as Washington is concerned.

Senator Dixon went to New York this afternoon to have a last word with Col. Roosevelt and will go from there direct to Chicago to remain until after the convention. He closed the Roosevelt headquarters in the Munsey Building yesterday and about the same hour the Taft headquarters in the Raleigh Hotel blinked out. The files and documents and typewriters were packed up and sent on to Chicago. Most of the clerks were let out, but a few followed their leaders to the scene of final conflict in Chicago.

The last of the paper cannonading was fired today. Representative McKinley intimated Col. Roosevelt's action in calling off the fight on Senator Root for temporary chairman as sounding a retreat. Senator Dixon's farewell fling related to the distribution of tickets at Chicago.

Director McKinley of the national Taft bureau said:

Senator Roosevelt has sounded the retreat for his delegates to the Chicago convention. He has withdrawn his fight against the election of Senator Root for temporary chairman, thereby admitting his defeat not only in that particular but all along the line. Yesterday, in the presence of his own delegates, he has admitted that he is not a candidate for the Presidency.

Mr. Roosevelt took back his bluff and bluster of the previous week, called off the fight on Senator Root and declared the fight on temporary chairman to be non-existent anyway.

Mr. Roosevelt in thus changing front, evidently expected the public to overlook the significance of his action. The significance of a full fledged retreat on the part of Mr. Roosevelt at this time is that he admits defeat in the Chicago convention before he goes into it.

Mr. Roosevelt's campaign of bluff, bullying and bluster is receiving its answer from the Republican party. While conducting a campaign without the Republican party, as he has done up to this time, Mr. Roosevelt had no difficulty in running his affairs to suit himself. In the end, however, he intended to demand that the Republican party should nominate him for a third term for President, regardless of whether or not he had an actual majority of the delegates, and in making that demand he has come to a square reckoning with Republicans.

Even his own delegates, many of whom were elected to support Mr. Roosevelt on the theory that he was a Republican, have served notice that they not only will not support Mr. Roosevelt in his fight on Senator Root but that they will not tolerate his proposed platform, and that under no circumstances can they be made to bolt the Republican national convention, as Mr. Roosevelt has intimated he may do if he is not nominated.

The growing weakness of Theodore Roosevelt even to his own followers, who now realize that he is at best only a minority candidate in the Chicago convention.

Senator Dixon, the Roosevelt manager, said:

The purpose of the Taft managers to pack the Republican national convention at Chicago with Taft supporters has already failed. It is the refusal of the delegates to the committee on arrangements, which is composed entirely of Taft men, to allot a single ticket to the convention to any friend or supporter of Col. Roosevelt. The Taft managers propose to fill the gallery with "red" and "black" supporters to create a false appearance of Taft sentiment in the convention.

The lengths to which they are willing to go are clearly shown in a telegram sent by William F. Stone, sergeant-at-arms of the national committee, to a Roosevelt manager, applied to him for a ticket. Mr. Stone, who is the defeated Taft boss in Baltimore, replied as follows:

"CHICAGO, MAY 31.

Not a damned ticket to any Roosevelt man. See your friends."

WILLIAM F. STONE.

The selection of delegates to the national convention is practically completed. Col. Theodore Roosevelt has more than 600 of the 1,075 delegates composing the convention and will be nominated as the first ballot by a substantial majority. His vote is likely to run close to 700. There remain to be selected only twenty-two delegates, six in Ohio and six in Arizona tomorrow and ten in South Dakota on Tuesday. Col. Roosevelt will get every one of them.

But one shred of hope remains to the Taft managers. It is that they will be able to turn the plainly expressed will of the thousands of the country and steal the national convention. They have been able to steal some district and State conventions, but they cannot steal the Presidency. The time has come when the Taft bulldozers can no longer use the arsenic bottle and the cyanide bottle.

Col. Roosevelt has been made to open the door and we insist that the decision shall also be rendered in the open. The proposition for open sessions will be submitted to the national committee by friends of Col. Roosevelt. It is up to the Taft managers and their friends to assume the responsibility for secrecy. The day of the star chamber has passed in the United States. The secret method in politics has gone.

ALL OPEN IN CHICAGO TO-DAY.

Taft Headquarters to Lodge in Building With Roosevelt's.

CHICAGO, June 2.—Republican campaign headquarters were transferred from Washington to Chicago to-day and this city will be the scene of all the political battles to be fought between now and the nomination of a Republican candidate in the week of June 18.

Four candidates have headquarters here and the office managers will all be on the job to-morrow. From now on Director McKinley of the Taft campaign headquarters will be found in the Congress Hotel. Senator Dixon, the Roosevelt manager, will house his workers in the same building, the Western headquarters having been at work there since January.

Walter L. Houston will direct the La Follette work from headquarters in the Grand Pacific Hotel and Senator Cummings' friends will have their rallying place in the Reector Building.

Charles Dick, former Senator from Ohio, is expected here to-morrow to begin the work of fighting out the Taft contests and in the afternoon Director McKinley is expected to arrive and take active charge. Senator Dixon probably will not get in until Tuesday afternoon, but the office will have been well organized by noon to-morrow.

Col. New of the national committee, who has been on the ground for several weeks, was joined to-day by Pearl Wight, committee man from Louisiana, and David W. Mulvane of Kansas. Roosevelt and Taft supporters respectively, who are here for the meeting of the committee on Tuesday.

Wight declares himself for Gov. Hadley of Missouri for temporary chairman of the convention, and Mulvane insists that the place should go to Senator Root, Borden D. Whiting of New Jersey, chosen by the Roosevelt New Jersey delegation, will demand his right to sit with the committee on contests in place of former Governor Franklin Murphy.

Thomas K. Niedringhaus of St. Louis, a Roosevelt man, who has been chosen for the place of Charles Nagel on the national committee, is expected to make the same demand. It was reported here to-day that Secretary Nagel is in dispute, also, as proxy to Representative Richard Bartholdy of St. Louis, a Taft supporter.

Chairman Harry New of the sub-committee of the national committee issued an official statement to-day of contests filed, and so far as the committee headquarters knows it covers all the disputes, the hearing of which will begin Thursday.

The official compilation shows 228 contested seats, six more than had been figured on by the Taft followers. It further reveals that the entire State of Louisiana is in dispute, also Georgia and Washington, all except two in Arkansas and Mississippi and all except eight in Texas. Three sets are claiming the seats allotted to Louisiana, two Taft and one Roosevelt delegation.
